

Salvage Assignment and Workflow

In today's challenging economic environment, is your company doing all it can to operate more efficiently?

Once the decision is made to declare a vehicle a total loss, every day can represent rental and storage expenses that are difficult for insurers to minimize with today's salvage workflow process. The process is manual and inefficient, typically involving phone calls or accessing systems external to the claim process and the re-keying of claim data is often required. The result? Scheduling a vehicle pick-up is often delayed.

Insurers need an automated way to manage the salvage assignment process. Insurers need CCC Valuescope® Salvage Assignment and Workflow.
